Two years ago, Muwafu village was one of the most feared villages in Muddo Sub-county. There were many wrongdoers most of whom come from other villages. Many people lost their dear ones and property. Other crimes like defilement and child sacrifice were also on the rise. In short, there was no peace and security in the village. One day, the villagers held a meeting. The meeting included both the adults and the youths. In the meeting, the insecurity of the area was discussed. The youths were asked to suggest ways of keeping peace and security in their village. One of the youths by the name of Okedi Evans said, "We need to ask the government to put a police post in this village." A good number of both adults and youths agreed to that, a letter was written to the District Police Commander. The village chairperson delivered it to the office the following day. Within a few days, the District Police Commander paid a visit to the village and met the elders and the youths. A police post was to be put up within one month. The Police Officers who were deployed there arrested suspects and took them to court. The magistrate punished those found guilty.

The punishment depended on how serious the crimes they had committed were. Most of them are still in jail. The people of Muwafu village are grateful to have a Police post in the area.
