51. Read the passage below and, in full sentences, answer the questions that follow.

Last term Fountain Junior School hosted Ndejje Primary School for a debate. All schools prepared early enough and they were at the venue by 12:00 noon. The pupils of the host school welcomed Ndejje Primary School with a dance right away from the gate to the main hall. The head teachers and teachers of both schools accompanied their pupils.

The MC welcomed Hon Ssekamwa James, the chairperson of the debate who officially called the participants to take their seats and introduced the motion to the members. Having sung the anthems, the rules and regulations were read by the chairperson.

The proposers and opposers boldly gave their views which were recorded by the secretary. Unfortunately, at the end of the debate, the host head teacher said that there was no winner, arguing that all schools participated well. The participants were awarded certificates and they went home happy.
